Mission Impossible ???

"Not a problem!" they said. I was worried, but having taken advice from another coach driver, Mark (our driver) was reassured.

Our Satnav was panicking as we approached Dartmoor, but we sailed on. Suddenly our confidence evaporated as we arrived at a bridge a fraction wider than our coach with a tight left hand turn to access it.

We didn't know if the bridge could carry us because we couldn't make the turn. Never mind - we could turn around and re-route. No we couldn't! The road was too narrow. The only way was to back up. Mark began to reverse and Ivor and I ran up the lane stopping traffic at points where we could get the coach past.

Two miles (and an hour!) later, the entrance to a Country Park provided the vital turning point.

On the bright side, Mark had some good practice reversing, and Ivor and I had some much needed exercise!
